

Product Analysis Exercise

Choose a Sound or music item from your home or other place that you can physically examine it that you think is well designed, exciting or cool. It doesn't have to be a complex product

- Draw it in detail. You should include more than one view or draw it in use as well.
- Use notes and annotation to analyse it in detail. We want opinion as well as factual description. Explain what the advantages are over other products designed for similar purpose
- Do this on A3 paper or in PowerPoint format

Assessment:

We are looking to see how well you can draw descriptively

We are looking at how well you can describe products and write about design

We are looking at your sense of layout of information and sketches on a page
